

The Velocity Method

Human Design Channels

What are channels?

- Channels are layers of your gifts.
- They are found on the body graph.
- They are the full lines that are colored starting from an energy center and connecting to another energy center.
- The energy center will always be defined. This channel connecting 2 centers creates a defined center.
- There are actually 36 channels due to multiple gates being used to create multiple channels. These gates: 10, 20, 34, and 57 are considered part of the 4-prong segment that creates these channel combinations:

Why are Channels so important?

- Channels shine a spotlight on characteristics, gifts, and talents.
- Channels are gifts that you can use in marketing your business.
- Channels give the brain a different story to adapt. This new story gives proof as to why you are a phenomenon.
